Recruit Training

For my recruit training I went to FT. Indian Town Gap which is in Pennsylvania. When I first got there I was very nervous. They check your sea bag to see if you have everything you need then they march you to your company barracks. I was in Bravo Company. There were two other companies and they were Alpha and Charlie. Every day they woke you up at 04:30 and made you do PT. You then change into utilities and head over to chow. The rest of the day consisted of colors, inspection, marching, classes, chow, and showers. I enjoyed recruit training, especially on graduation day when you got to see your family again after two weeks. I also hope to staff there next year so I will be able to see my shipmates from Bravo Company again.
